Wolly:

Vale la pena se ti guardi bene il mail qui sotto riportato.

Nelle vicinanze del Globe, hanno aperto un'altro teatro antico, di tipo "Jacobean". Sotto trovi le foto.

Inoltre, sono già aperte le prenotazioni per il programma Primavera-Estate del Globe (hmmm).
Buonanotte.

Sam Wanamaker Playhouse opens
with The Duchess of Malfi

SAM WANAMAKER PLAYHOUSE NOW OPEN

“The extraordinary thing about the new indoor Jacobean theatre that is part of Shakespeare’s Globe, is that it feels as if it’s always been there and was just waiting to be uncovered.”

- Michael Billington, The Guardian

Our new year happily began with the opening of our beautiful new theatre which has been met with gasps of joy and the outpouring of superlatives from audiences and critics alike. The Sam Wanamaker Playhouse has now housed the first performances of The Duchess of Malfi and Ellen Terry with Eileen Atkins, which have received rapturous receptions. The third play to be staged in the playhouse, The Knight of Burning Pestle will begin rehearsals next week and open on 20 February.

Candlelight creates a particularly magical effect in this space, filling us with excitement for our Candlelit Concerts, a treat for the eyes and the ears. The first concert will be Mozart in London, part of the Pinnock’s Passion’s series.
